THE COLLEGE

I. Description

1. A BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF THE COLLEGE

Muhlenberg College is an independent, undergraduate, coeducational institution related to the Evangelical Lutheran Church in America. Founded in 1848 to provide a liberal arts education in the Judeo-Christian humanistic tradition, Muhlenberg is committed to the highest standards of academic integrity and excellence.

The College is located in Allentown, Pennsylvania, approximately 55 miles north of Philadelphia and 90 miles west of New York City.

As a liberal arts college, Muhlenberg offers programs in the humanities, the natural and social sciences, and in professional areas such as business, education, pre-medical, pre-theological, and pre-law studies. Flexibility is provided through course options and opportunities for independent study, research and internships, and through a plan for self-designed majors. The College strives to keep its curriculum vital and current with the rapidly changing intellectual world. The excellence and integrity of the Muhlenberg program have been recognized by Phi Beta Kappa and by some 13 additional national honorary societies which have established chapters at the College.

Muhlenberg's academic program is accredited by the Middle States Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, the Department of Education of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and the New York State Board of Regents. The College is on the approved list of the American Chemical Society. It is also a member of the American Council on Education, the Association of American Colleges, the Council for the Advancement and Support of Education, the American Association of Colleges of Teacher Education, the College Entrance Examination Board, the Pennsylvania Association of Colleges and Universities, the Associated Independent Colleges and Universities of Pennsylvania, and the National Collegiate Honors Council.

Significant in the College's tradition are the historic ties between the College and the Lutheran Church. The name Muhlenberg College was adopted in 1867 – 19 years after the College was founded in honor of the patriarch of the Evangelical Lutheran Church in America, Henry Melchior Muhlenberg. The sons of Henry Melchior Muhlenberg made important contributions to the early life of our country. General John Peter Gabriel Muhlenberg wintered at Valley Forge with George Washington; Frederick Augustus Muhlenberg was the first speaker of the United States House of Representatives; and Henry Ernst Muhlenberg was one of the most eminent early American scientists and the first president of Franklin College, now Franklin and Marshall College.

2. MISSION STATEMENT OF THE COLLEGE

Muhlenberg College aims to develop independent critical thinkers who are intellectually agile, characterized by a zest for reasoned and civil debate, knowledgeable about the achievements and traditions of diverse civilizations and cultures, able to express ideas with clarity and grace, committed to life-long learning, equipped with ethical and civic values, and prepared for lives of leadership and service. The College is committed to providing an intellectually rigorous undergraduate education within the context of a supportive, diverse residential community. We are also committed to educating the whole person through experiences within and beyond the classroom. Our curriculum integrates the traditional liberal arts with selected pre-professional studies. Our faculty are passionate about teaching, value close relationships with students, and are committed to the pedagogical and intellectual importance of research. Honoring its historical heritage from the Lutheran Church and its continuing connection with the Evangelical Lutheran Church in America, Muhlenberg welcomes and celebrates a variety of faith traditions on campus and encourages members of the College community to value spiritual life.

3. DIVERSITY STATEMENT OF THE COLLEGE

*Muhlenberg College aims to develop independent critical thinkers who are intellectually agile, characterized by a zest for reasoned and civil debate, knowledgeable about the achievements and traditions of diverse civilizations and cultures, able to express ideas with clarity and grace, committed to life-long learning, equipped with ethical and civic values, and prepared for lives of leadership and service. The College is committed to providing an intellectually rigorous undergraduate education within the context of a supportive, diverse residential community...From the Muhlenberg College Mission Statement

Muhlenberg College believes that diversity, in many forms and expressions, is essential to its educational mission and to its success as a community. We believe that a broad range of human perspectives, experiences, backgrounds, and opinions enriches the academic experience, stimulates intellectual rigor, enhances the quality of life on campus, and prepares our graduates for lives of leadership and service in a democratic, pluralistic society and a diverse world. We believe that our academic program is not able to achieve the goals set in our mission statement unless each member of the community recognizes and understands the benefits, conflicts, tensions, and intersections that are inherent in diversity. Diversity is, therefore, a fundamental Muhlenberg value. To that end, we assume the responsibility of providing educational opportunities to students of talent and potential and professional opportunities to talented faculty and staff representing many different backgrounds and experiences. This reflects our College's commitment to principles of justice, equality, and democracy.

The College has already achieved an admirable degree of diversity in several important respects, such as religion, intellectual pursuits, socio-economic background, and sexual orientation. We recognize that these successes must not lead to complacency, but inspire us to continued effort. Muhlenberg must recommit itself with renewed energy to recruiting and retaining diverse students, faculty, and staff whose range of viewpoints, cultural perspectives, race, ethnicity, sexual orientations, gender identities, lifestyles, interests, political beliefs, nationalities, economic backgrounds, physical abilities, and religious and spiritual values will enrich our curriculum and campus life. We must also commit ourselves to persistent and vigorous efforts to confront, and challenge prejudiced attitudes and behaviors that exclude, demean, or marginalize members of our community by breaking down existing barriers that prevent meaningful discussions about diversity. Finally, Muhlenberg College also commits itself to good citizenship in the wider, local community by supporting with our business those vendors and services that are operated by and fairly employ underrepresented groups.

5. CENTERS AND INSTITUTES

Center for Ethics

Lanethea Mathews, Political Science

The Muhlenberg College Center for Ethics seeks to develop our capacities for ethical reflection, moral leadership, and responsible action by engaging community members in scholarly dialogue, intellectual analysis, and self-examination of contested ethical issues. Through thematic lectures and events, the Center for Ethics serves the teaching and study of the liberal arts at Muhlenberg College by providing opportunities for intensive conversation and thinking about the ethical dimensions of contemporary philosophical, political, economic, social, and scientific issues. The theme for Fall 2010 is Science + Sensibility: Studying Nature as a Human Endeavor.

Faculty Center for Teaching

Lisa Perfetti, Languages, Literatures, and Cultures, Director

Trish Boyles, Accounting, Business and Economics, Assistant Director

The Faculty Center for Teaching's mission is to provide a forum for faculty to share best practices in teaching and explore new pedagogies. The Center sponsors programs each year led by different faculty members on a variety of topics including: creating effective assignments, collaborative learning, effective use of technology and a variety of specific pedagogies. The Center also runs faculty learning communities in which faculty members explore an issue in their teaching over the course of a semester. The Center supports new faculty by holding an orientation every fall followed by a series of monthly programs, and offering a voluntary peer-partner program to encourage further dialogue about teaching. The Center awards summer grants to faculty who wish to explore new pedagogical approaches in their teaching and provides funding to support faculty participation in regional and national teaching workshops and conferences.

The Center was created in 1994 through a faculty initiative with an institutional incentive grant from the Pennsylvania Department of Education and additional funding from grants from the Office of the Provost and grants from the Aid Association for Lutherans. The Center was awarded a grant from the Andrew W. Mellon Foundation to support initiatives in interdisciplinary teaching. Overseen by a faculty director and an advisory board comprised of faculty members from a variety of disciplines, the Center's operational costs are currently sustained through support from the Shire Family Fund for Excellence in Teaching, established by Mr. and Mrs. Donald T. Shire P'90.

Institute for Jewish-Christian Understanding

Rev. Peter A. Pettit, Religion Studies

Established in 1989, the Institute for Jewish-Christian Understanding uses the resources of the academic community to foster dialogue and the development of resources to help people build bridges of understanding between the faith communities. Monthly luncheon discussion programs for both clergy and the public, several local living-room dialogue groups, periodic lecture forums with visiting scholars and religious leaders, the annual Wallenberg Tribute program, and an annual prejudice reduction workshops for 1,500 middle-school and high-school students from the region all serve its primary objectives and are kept updated on the Institute website, www.ijcu.org. A middle-school curriculum unit on prejudice reduction and a young-adult dialogue resource have both been published by the Institute, along with dozens and dozens of "Factoids on Faith," which are distributed regularly through the Institute's Facebook page. On campus, the IJCU sponsors Star-Crossed Students, an interfaith club that leads student dialogues, an annual observance of the Night of Shattered Glass, and forums on interfaith dating, religious holidays, and other topics; the club also leads student participation in the prejudice reduction program. Their activities can be tracked on their Facebook page. The Institute is a founding member of the Council of Centers for Jewish-Christian Relations. It is governed by a board comprising community and college leaders from the business, religious, and academic arenas, and is overseen administratively by the College's Provost. Financial support comes from individual memberships, congregational and denominational grants, corporate and foundation funding, and the College.

7. SPECIAL ACADEMIC PROGRAMS

SELF-DESIGNED MAJOR

Carol Shiner Wilson, Dean of the College for Academic Life

Any highly motivated student may propose a self-designed major not falling within one of the traditional programs of study listed in the College catalog. Students with a self-designed major complete the same general academic requirements as those with a traditional major.

SEMESTER IN WASHINGTON, D.C.

Alton J. Slane, Political Science

Muhlenberg cooperates with several other colleges in the Lutheran College Washington Consortium who together offer a semester in Washington. The semester is designed for juniors and seniors with a variety of academic majors. In addition to seminars drawing upon the special resources available in Washington, there are hundreds of internship possibilities in government, social service agencies, religious groups, medicine, public interest organizations, business and the arts.

EDUCATION ABROAD PROGRAMS

Donna Kish-Goodling, Accounting, Business and Economics

In a world that is becoming increasingly interdependent, international study represents a significant means by which students may better achieve their educational objectives. A variety of opportunities suitable for students in the natural sciences, social sciences, arts and humanities are available at host country institutions and programs in Europe, Australia, Asia, Africa and Latin America. In addition, Muhlenberg students have participated in specialized programs abroad in international business, theatre, language study and field research in environmental science.

DANA SCHOLARS PROGRAM

Mohsin Hashim, Political Science

The Dana Scholars Program provides outstanding students with a unique educational opportunity that includes first year seminar, internship, and independent and collaborative research experiences. The Dana program fosters an active, engaged learning style and encourages students to be self-reliant and personally responsible for shaping much of their own educational experience. Since the Dana program promotes student scholarship and research, it has emerged as a powerful springboard into a variety of attractive postgraduate options for its Associates. Students are required to maintain a cumulative grade point average of 3.33 to remain in the program.

MUHLENBERG SCHOLARS PROGRAM

Theodore W. Schick, Jr., Philosophy

The Muhlenberg Scholars Program is designed to enhance the education of talented students by providing unique opportunities for intellectual exploration, growth and development. Scholar courses are small, interdisciplinary, discussion-oriented courses in which the student is encouraged to grapple creatively with problems at the forefront of current research.

RJ FELLOWSHIP PROGRAM

Lora Taub, Media and Communication

The RJ Fellows Program was established at Muhlenberg College by the Scheller family in order to strengthen and develop the decision-making competencies of bright, talented, and hard-working liberal arts undergraduates. The Program realizes that the future is, and will always be, uncertain, and that personally fulfilling and productive lives derive from each individual's ability to make intelligent and ethical decisions in the face of this uncertainty. While acknowledging that human beings inevitably learn many life lessons through trial and error, the Program also believes that education can be a powerful force in strengthening each individual's ability to assess the future and make wise choices. The Program's founders assert that liberal arts education, in particular, has the potential to provide individuals with a variety of analytical, problem-solving, ethical-assessment, and decision-making skills. The RJ Fellows Program is, therefore, deliberately interdisciplinary. Courses affiliated with the Program focus on process and methodology as well as information, and the program itself provides opportunities for students to reflect on and make connections among lessons learned and the implication of those lessons for making wise decisions.

DEPARTMENTAL HONORS PROGRAMS

Some academic departments have honors programs to provide special opportunities for the most highly motivated students to develop their capacities for independent thinking, original research and disciplined scholarship. Honors work consists of seminars, guided independent study, individual research or participation in faculty research, as well as a certain amount of regular course work. Successful honors candidates will graduate with honors in the field of concentration; in addition, they still maintain eligibility for the traditional Latin graduation distinctions.

WRITING PROGRAM

David Rosenwasser, English; Linda Bips, Psychology; and Jill Stephen, English; Co-Directors

WRITING ACROSS THE CURRICULUM PROGRAM

Muhlenberg College offers a Writing Across the Curriculum Program that incorporates writing into virtually every department at the college. The basic premise of the program is that writing is essential to the learning process. Writing instruction at Muhlenberg is not primarily about teaching students to avoid error (that is important but secondary) but about helping them to use writing to develop as creative and critical thinkers. The Program also assumes that the ability to write well cannot be acquired in a single semester of practice during the students first year. As a result, Muhlenberg requires students to take at least three Writing Intensive (aka W) courses during their undergraduate career: a first-year seminar (FYS), a writing intensive course designated by the student's major field of study, and one other officially designated W course from anywhere in the curriculum.

Enrollment in W courses is limited to twenty students (fifteen for FYS). Students write a minimum of fifteen pages broken into at least three assignments, including a revision based on the professor's comments about their thinking.

FIRST-YEAR SEMINARS

First-Year Seminars are small, discussion-oriented courses that engage students with the life of the mind - with what it means to think deeply, and to talk, read and write critically about ideas; seminars introduce students to what it means to be a college student. Taught by full-time faculty from departments throughout the college, seminars vary in their subjects. Some examine a topic from an interdisciplinary perspective; others focus on particular questions or issues within a discipline. What all First-Year Seminars share is an emphasis on writing and thinking critically about the values and assumptions underlying various approaches to knowledge.

Enrollment is limited to fifteen students, and seminars require weekly writing and reading. Moreover, seminars teach students how to formulate a claim and how to collect, evaluate and cite evidence that supports and qualifies that claim.

WRITING COURSES BEYOND THE FIRST YEAR SEMINAR

Writing intensive courses are specially designed to focus on using writing to learn the characteristic thinking processes practiced by a discipline, as well as the particular forms the discipline employs to convey knowledge. These courses also attend to the similar traits that effective writing shares across the disciplines. Many departments offer a writing-intensive capstone course for senior majors, but there are also a number of lower-level W courses available to both majors and non-majors across the curriculum.

II. Facilities

1. MAJOR FACILITIES

HARRY C. TREXLER LIBRARY

The Harry C. Trexler Library houses the College's primary collections of information resources including books, journals (both print and electronic), videos, recordings, government documents, and electronic databases. The collection of approximately 233,000 volumes, 289,000 U.S. government documents, 16,000 audio visual items, and some 25,000 print and electronic journal subscriptions is designed to meet the general instruction and research needs of undergraduate students. In addition to the on-site collections, students and faculty have access to the collections of five other Lehigh Valley independent colleges and universities, with combined holdings of more than 1.75 million volumes, as well as to libraries worldwide. The OCLC-based interlibrary loan system widens the borrowing circle to worldwide access for free or at low cost. Trexler Library's membership to the Pennsylvania Academic Library Consortium, Inc. (PALCI) provides students and faculty direct borrowing privileges in more than forty academic and research libraries within the Commonwealth and the surrounding area and participation in PALINET allows the library to participate in consortia pricing for databases. Automated with an integrated library system since 1995, the Library continues to add services including electronic reserves, instant messaging reference services, and academic technology training sessions.

Built in 1988, and now celebrating the 20th Anniversary, Trexler Library offers a contemporary and gracious facility combined with varieties of seating and study spaces to meet the needs of individual and group work. Wireless access is available throughout the building, and laptop and notebook computers are available for students to borrow. Also included in the building is a Curriculum Laboratory serving the Education Department, an Information Commons to experiment and demonstrate new technologies to support the curriculum, a completely developed teaching lab for hands-on searching and research development, a PC Lab for student paper writing, the Writing and Information Consultation Center combining the expertise of writing tutors and librarians, the Polling Center, a media viewing classroom and a standard classroom. The Library is open 105 hours per week with additional hours provided during exam periods. Course-integrated instruction pairs librarians with instructors to combine information gathering and evaluating skills into the curriculum with the goal of increasing lifelong information literacy among the Muhlenberg community

GIDEON F. EGNER MEMORIAL CHAPEL

The Egner Chapel is one of the finest modern Gothic campus churches in the nation. Its stained glass windows and vaulted interior provide appropriate settings for worship, meditation, concerts, weddings and academic convocations. The 48-rank, 2,600 pipe Holtkamp organ is used in worship, teaching and musical performances.

THE DOROTHY AND DEXTER BAKER CENTER FOR THE ARTS

The Dorothy and Dexter Baker Center for the Arts was completed in 1976. Dramatic in concept and highly functional, the Center was created for Muhlenberg by Philip Johnson, one of the world's most renowned architects. Focal point of its design and function is a 220-foot, glass-covered galleria which bisects the structure. The galleria serves as a thoroughfare, gathering place, and as a unique site for displaying the arts—inviting students to visit an exhibition, attend a concert, and participate in drawing, painting, sculpture, dance, or the performing arts. The main level contains the Empire theatre/auditorium complex, a lecture/recital hall, galleries, class and seminar rooms, the Art Department office and slide library, and studios for drawing, painting, and sculpture. The upper level contains the Music and English Departments, faculty offices, music studios, music and theatre rehearsal rooms and the music listening room, with the department's collection of recordings and scores.

Included in the musical facilities are Steinway grand pianos for performance and teaching and a Schlicker practice organ, as well as numerous practice studios with pianos. The Electronic Music Studio includes sophisticated analog and digital synthesizers and recording equipment.

TREXLER PAVILION FOR THEATRE AND DANCE

The striking Trexler Pavilion for Theatre and Dance, was completed in December 1999, and houses the Department of Theatre and Dance. Architectural features of this contemporary structure include a curved glass wall which encompasses lobbies on two levels and a pedestrian bridge which connects to the Baker Center for the Arts. The building includes three performance spaces: a 365-seat proscenium theatre with balcony, a student-run experimental theatre, and a dance studio theatre. Other building spaces include a costume shop and dressing rooms, rehearsal rooms, a scenery shop, and departmental offices.

REHEARSAL HOUSE

The 10,000 square feet, former TKE house, fully converted into the new "Rehearsal House" for the Department of Theatre and Dance and the Department of Music.

The Rehearsal House, specifically the smaller studio, provides space for coaching sessions between professors and small groups of students outside of regular class time. The Rehearsal House provides the Music Department with offices, a new performance studio, and a new Electronic Music Studio.

The Rehearsal House is more than just a work space. It features a spacious lobby on each floor and seating space around the studio entrances for students to come to study or just hang out. The most surprising new feature will be a circular outdoor amphitheater cut into the front hillside in front of the house, equipped with outdoor lighting for staging performances. The seats will also provide space for students to come to relax on nice days.

J. CONRAD AND HAZEL J. SEEGER'S UNION

J. Conrad Seegers Union provides a hub for integration of the tools for teaching and learning and a venue for educating the whole student. Seegers Union supports the campus in the development of individuals and community through education, socialization, advocacy, and the delivery of services.

Expanded in 2010, the final phase of the Seegers Expansion and Renovation redesigned the Student Life Suite incorporating, Student Activities, Student Leadership Development & Greek Life, Community Service and Civic Engagement. In an effort to create chance encounters, Student Life Suite also incorporated student organization support through SGA, MAC and SHARE offices, a club resource room, lounge, meeting space and project rooms and a Leadership Center.

Seegers Union provides facilities and resources to support programs and conferences focused on supporting the education mission of the college.

The heart of the campus also supports the dining program and is home to five distinctly unique dining operations, a state of the art, centralized production kitchen and a thriving catering program. The new Campus Restaurant offers a high quality restaurant style experience for our community with an incredible dining experience designed to enhance Muhlenberg's strong sense of community. Housed within the Campus Restaurant, the Food Gallery features the Noshery, our kosher meat and dairy platforms under Star-K Certification. Adjacent to the Campus Restaurant, is the Mule Express program that supports meal plan members only for a quick, fresh meal on the go. Retail operations in Seegers Union include the Generals Quarters, the campus food court featuring diverse meal choices at a variety of food stations, including Sushi, Southwestern, 'Bergers Grill, as well as "kosher to go", Sandella's offering made-to-order flatbread quesadillas, pizza, panini sandwiches, salads and grab and go desserts, and Java Joe, our popular coffee kiosk featuring Starbucks Coffee

Seegers Union is also home to the 'Berg Bookshop, student mailroom, the Student Media Center, Academic Resource, Office of Disabilities Services, Career Development, and the Muhlenberg Dining Services Suite.

NEW SCIENCES BUILDINGJOHN V. SHANKWEILER BIOLOGY BUILDING*HARRY C. TREXLER SCIENCES TOWER*PETER S. TRUMBOWER SCIENCE BUILDING

With the completion of the New Science Building and the complete renovation of Shankweiler, the science facilities at Muhlenberg now match the quality of our students, faculty and reputation for excellence. A “Science Street” runs from Trumbower across the new bridge, through Shankweiler and into the New Science Building. Various research neighborhoods are located along the “street” with clusters of offices, research and teaching labs grouped to facilitate the sharing of instrumentation amongst researchers with common interests. The neighborhoods are centered around a “living room” area where students and faculty can meet and informally continue conversations begun in class as well as share the latest research results.

The 47,362 square foot New Science Building completed in July of 2006 adjoins the 36,400 square foot John V. Shankweiler Biology Building which was completely renovated during the 2006-2007 academic year. The buildings house biology laboratories and biology faculty, chemistry laboratories, mathematics classrooms, a fourth floor green house and the Acopian Center for Ornithology. A main sciences corridor extending from the west end of the New Science Building, through the Shankweiler Building and a new 4,750 square foot Harry C. Trexler sciences tower, connects via raised walkways to the Trumbower Science Building, which houses the Departments of Chemistry, Physics and Mathematical Sciences. In addition to modern laboratories, lecture halls and classrooms, the building contains special student, faculty and research facilities. The seamlessly interconnected complex of science buildings now totals nearly 150,000 square feet.

GEORGE T. ETTINGER BUILDING

The George T. Ettinger Building, renovated during 1990-91, is an academic facility housing the Languages, Literatures & Cultures; Sociology & Anthropology; Political Science; Accounting, Business & Economics; and History Departments. The four-floor structure also houses the Walter and Margaret Berger Learning Center, the Office of Information Technology, numerous computer laboratories, a state-of-the-art language learning center, and the Price-Waterhouse accounting classroom.

FORREST G. MOYER HALL

Forrest G. Moyer Hall, a new four-story academic building, was completed in April 2000. Named for alumnus Forrest G. Moyer, M.D., the building houses the Psychology, Education, Philosophy, and Religion Studies Departments. Included are psychology laboratories, departmental reading rooms, and faculty offices within a two-story atrium. Also located in this facility are the Center for Ethics and Leadership and the Institute for Jewish-Christian Understanding. The main level includes a large forum space to be used for lectures, conferences, and other special events.

THE JOHN A. W. HAAS COLLEGE CENTER

The Haas College Center, formerly the Haas Library, is a campus and community landmark building renovated in 1989-1990. It houses administrative offices including Admissions, Alumni Relations, Financial Aid, Registrar, President’s and Deans’ offices, as well as Business/Finance/Treasurer, Human Resources, and Development offices. The Center contains public spaces including a tiered conference room, several meeting rooms and a spacious lobby used for ceremonial occasions.

LIFE SPORTS CENTER

The Life Sports Center, completed in August of 2004 with a 40,000 square foot, three-level expansion is now the largest building complex on the Muhlenberg campus. The Center is designed to support intercollegiate athletics as well as fitness, recreational, and intramural activities. The new addition includes a large coed weight room, spacious cardiovascular fitness area, coaches’ offices, locker rooms, a new athletic training facility, and a juice bar and food venue.

Included in the new structure are conference rooms, classrooms, and suites for College Health Services and College Counseling Services. This new space is supported by a tournament size basketball court with seating for 3,500; a 32,000 square foot multi-use field house for tennis, indoor jogging and other activities; a six-lane, 25 meter swimming pool; racquetball and squash courts, a Pilates Center, and a wrestling room. A state-of-the-art AstroTurf GameDay Grass 3D synthetic turf field for football, lacrosse, and field hockey and an 8-lane all-weather track are adjacent to the Center. Six new all-weather tennis courts, soccer fields, sandpit volleyball courts and basketball courts are also located on campus.

STUDENT HOUSING

A wide variety of housing experiences are made available for Muhlenberg's student population. Ten residence halls provide traditional dormitory and suite-style living arrangements. Completed in January of 2007 is a new student apartment building housing 48 students. The Village, which was opened in August of 2007, consists of five apartment-style buildings clustered village-style and is available to upperclassmen.

Thirty-one small houses owned by the college located in the adjacent neighborhoods are available to those students who meet the special criteria to live in the Muhlenberg Independent Living Experiences (M.I.L.E.) houses. Completing the housing offerings are four fraternities and three sorority houses.

OTHER CAMPUS FACILITIES

The John Peter Gabriel House contains the Muhlenberg Evening College and the Wescoe School of Professional Studies. Walson Hall, formerly Old Commons, opened in spring 2002 and is home to WMUH and the Department of Media and Communication. In addition to faculty offices, it contains a television studio, post production facilities and digital laboratories. The Hoffman House, renovated in 1997, is host to meetings and other events for Muhlenberg faculty, staff, and guests. The facility includes an all-purpose room, several lounges, a seminar room, a kitchen, and three guest rooms.

OFF-CAMPUS FACILITIES

The Conrad W. Raker Biological Field Station and Wildlife Sanctuary, a 40-acre wooded tract situated 15 miles north of the campus, is used by biology classes for field study. A section of Jordan Creek within the preserve provides added opportunity for aquatic biology studies. Students and staff also conduct research on varied aspects of plant and animal biology. The Lee and Virginia Graver Arboretum, a 50-acre tract located 20 miles northeast of campus, offers a diverse array of field research and other educational opportunities for Muhlenberg students. Its natural wooded area consists of Pennsylvania native plant species, a wild flower habitat with over 300 species, more than 3,000 rhododendrons, hundreds of azaleas and other broadleaf evergreens and an unusual collection of conifer tree species. It includes a 12-acre research facility which is also used for activities and meetings.

Flexible spaces throughout Trexler Library enable group study, designated silent research space, and areas for social learning and interactive activities. Services include one-on-one research appointments, citation consultations, library instruction, and IM and e-mail reference services. Librarians throughout the library work with students, faculty, staff, and community members to provide programs that highlight the collection and facilitate intellectual engagement in research and conversation. The library also serves as a Government Depository library and provides access to this collection for local residents. Whether visiting the library physically or virtually, resources are available in a wide variety of media types including books, online journals, electronic reserves, and a growing audio/visual collection.

Highlights of the library include an Information Commons and an Information Consultation Center. The Information Commons offers high-end multimedia development workstations for taking research from project conception, through production, and into presentation. The Information Consultation Center brings the Public Outreach and Information Literacy Librarians together with the Writing Center tutors to provide one central location for shared consultations. The full library is equipped with wireless access and offers laptop and tablet computers for check out. The Special Collections are designated as a "We the People" collection for the extensive Pennsylvania Dutch works and have received international recognition for the ancient papyri collection.

2. MARTIN ART GALLERY

The Martin Art Gallery provides the Muhlenberg and Lehigh Valley communities with the opportunity for increased understanding of the visual arts, art history, and cultural diversity through the display of the College's impressive permanent collection as well as through special exhibitions of work by contemporary artists, art faculty, or in collaboration with other art institutions. The Gallery's year-round exhibition schedule is enhanced by gallery talks, artist receptions, and cross-curriculum programs. It occupies a prominent location on campus in the Baker Center for the Arts, a striking arts facility designed by renowned American architect, Philip Johnson.

The permanent collection consists of the Tonner Collection, more than 1,700 works-on-paper that range from 16th- century European masters such as Albrecht Durer to 19th-century American artists such as James Abbott McNeill Whistler and Mary Cassatt. Also part of the collection is a complete 20-volume set (more than 700 images) of Edward S. Curtis's photogravures, The North American Indian, and contemporary paintings, prints, sculpture, and photography. Some of the 20th-century artists whose work is represented in the collection include Imogen Cunningham, Richard Anuskiewicz, Robert Rauschenberg, Mark di Suvero, and Harry Bertoia.

Information about the Martin Art Gallery is accessible at www.muhlenberg.edu/cultural/gallery/ or by calling 484.664.3467. All Gallery exhibitions and programs are free and open to the public. Hours are Tuesdays through Saturdays, noon to 8:00PM. Closed during major holidays and semester breaks.

3. ACADEMIC RESOURCE CENTER

The Academic Resource Center offers assistance to all students through its award-winning peer tutoring program. This includes first-year Transition Workshops, the Learning Assistants in the Classroom initiative, content workshops, small group tutoring, and individual academic assistance offered by three professional Learning Specialists. The College Reading and Learning Association has certified Muhlenberg's Peer Tutoring Program to the Master Tutor level since 1993. Each year, over 300 Peer Tutors are available in most subjects, including Dance and Stage Design. Individual tutoring is provided on a weekly basis with no cost to the enrolled student.

Most fall semesters, we train up to 20 students to become Learning Assistants in the classroom by offering a full unit course titled Adult Personal and Cognitive Development: Implications for Instruction (PSY 305). These Learning Assistants are placed in gateway classes to assist students as they begin the transition to self-regulated learning. They provide students with sound meta-cognitive practices and strategic learning skills for the specific course. In addition, we offer first-year students Transition Workshops. These are conducted in the evening by peer Transition Mentors and include such topics as time management, critical reading, test preparation, memory strategies, computer skills, and motivation.

Throughout the entire academic year, we offer content-specific workshops in many subjects. These workshops meet in the evenings, generally for two hours, and are conducted by workshop tutors or Peer Learning Assistants who work collaboratively with the instructors. Most semesters, we offer workshops in Calculus, Physics, Biology, Chemistry, Financial Accounting, Psychological Statistics, Music Theory, and Statistical Methods. Other workshops can be arranged by student or faculty requests. Students who prefer to work individually to develop their strategic learning may make appointments with one of three Learning Specialists, and students with disabilities that impact cognition are strongly encouraged to use this service on a regular basis.

4. WRITING CENTER

The Writing Center located on Level A of the library, provides students with drop-in tutorial sessions in which tutors help students develop their ideas, improve their organization, and refine matters of style and delivery. Tutors are students selected through faculty recommendation, interview and portfolio. They are trained in a semester-long course on writing pedagogy and by apprenticeship to experienced tutors.

The Writing Assistants Program puts tutors in the classroom. WA's are assigned to first-year seminars where they work closely with the professor to help students make the transition from high school to college writing and learning. They attend all classes and meet one-on-one with students several times during the semester to work on writing assignments.

The Writing Associates Program links a Writing Center tutor with a writing-intensive (W) course at any level beyond the first-year seminar. The writing associate meets with students in the course about their papers but does not attend classes. Ideally, he or she is a major in the discipline and (best case scenario) has already taken this course with the professor with whom he or she is working. Faculty interested in having a writing associate should contact Jill Stephen or David Rosenwasser.

The Writing Mentors Program provides weekly individual tutorial sessions for students who may benefit from more consistent, in-depth support. Mentoring arrangements are made by contacting Kate Conrad, the Assistant Director of the Writing Center, or Wendy Cole, Director of the Academic Resource Center.

6. THE CAREER CENTER

THE CAREER CENTER

Contact: Cailín M. Pachter, Director, Lower Level, Seegers Union, ext. 3170

The Career Center promotes career development by encouraging students to integrate their academic and co-curricular experiences and inspiring them to:

EXPLORE – increase awareness of interests, skills, and values; gather information and experience to assist with informed decision making; promote curiosity about the world in anticipation of lives of leadership and service.

PREPARE – develop tools, strategies, skills, and knowledge related to goals; improve ability to understand and communicate the value of an aggregate Muhlenberg experience; consider the challenges of college to career transition and plan for lifelong learning.

CONNECT – network with and obtain information from people, organizations, information, and other resources that will help students meet career goals.

To support its mission, the Center offers numerous programs and services for students.

The Career Center targets first-year students for many of its programs since exploration and planning are recommended over a four-year timeline. Students are encouraged to visit the Center as early as possible and individual appointments are available with the career counselors. In these sessions students may choose to discuss topics such as choosing majors, determining career goals, or finding a job or internship. Pre-law advising is also available.

Among the programs offered are those that expose students to working professionals and the world beyond college. Discussions with guest speakers during events, such as “Alumni in the Spotlight”, give students the chance to learn about a variety of career fields. The Muhlenberg Career Network enables students to meet and gain advice from alumni in careers ranging from banking and writing to research and teaching. Students may participate in the Muhlenberg Shadow Program which links students with alumni or other professionals for an on-site visit.

The Career Center regularly holds workshops on topics such as career decision-making, choosing a major, writing graduate school essays, resume writing, developing job search strategies, finding summer jobs/internships, networking, and college-to-career transition. “Dine for Success,” mock interviews, resume clinics and alumni career panels are just a few of the innovative programs that prepare students and provide pertinent information. A comprehensive “Gearing Up for Graduate School” series provides students with necessary information to be competitive in the application process.

Internships are available for students seeking work experience related to their career interests. These are listed in “Career Connections”, the Center’s online database to which all students have an account. Part-time, off-campus, and summer job opportunities are listed in the Center’s Resource Library. The Career Center takes an active approach to helping students identify potential employers. Each year, representatives from a variety of fields come to campus to interview students for full-time employment and internships. Hundreds of positions are entered into the Career Connections database each year for students to access. In addition, links on the Career Center’s web page (www.muhlenberg.edu/careercenter) help students learn about other opportunities. Internship and job fairs are held both on- and off-campus.

II. Parents

1. THE PARENTS COUNCIL

Background: Created in 1992, The Parents Council is a leadership group of Muhlenberg College parents who are committed to the success of the College and its students. Muhlenberg parents invited by the President comprise this group and are resources for both the College and all Muhlenberg families. Each year the President invites a select number of parents who are leaders in business, education and civic life to serve a one-year renewable term on the Parents Council. In the 2009-2010 academic year, 43 families across the classes had parents serving on this leadership group.

Mission: The mission of The Parents Council is two-fold: Parent Council members provide philanthropic leadership and financial support to Muhlenberg through annual leadership gifts to The Muhlenberg Fund and, through their advice, advocacy and ambassador roles; they help develop stronger relationships between Muhlenberg families and the College.

Responsibilities:

Lead Muhlenberg philanthropically - Contributions to The Muhlenberg Fund, ranging from $1,500 to $25,000 annually, place these parent leaders in the Henry Melchior Muhlenberg Society (HMMS). Many Parents Council members also lend philanthropic support to programming and capital projects of their passions beyond their annual contributions to The Muhlenberg Fund. In the 2009-2010 fiscal year, Parents Council members contributed over $140,000 to The Muhlenberg Fund and over 450,000 to the College overall.

Share the parent perspective - As representatives of Muhlenberg families, council members share their perspectives and questions on College matters with the administration. Through visits with the Parents Council liaison and participation at two meetings each year, council members lend their perspective on the Muhlenberg experience - from academic and support offerings to student life to readiness for post-graduation plans and more. These meetings facilitate parent-college communication so that the College might better respond to parent concerns.

Stay informed and engaged - To represent Muhlenberg passionately and accurately as advocates and ambassadors, members meet twice a year, once during the fall Family Weekend and again in March or April. Council members also receive various communiqués regarding the College (Presidential Updates, Muhlenberg Magazine, Newsletters).

Volunteer - Several Parents Council members also serve Muhlenberg as resources for College communications with parents, the Career Center Volunteer Network, and as support peer resources to newer parents during events such as Advising, Orientation, Move-in and Family Weekend.

1. HISTORICAL HIGHLIGHTS

- 1848 Allentown Seminary, the educational institution from which Muhlenberg College evolved, is opened in the Livingston Mansion, 4th and Walnut Streets, by Reverend Christian R. Kessler, a minister in the Reformed Church. The Seminary is established as a Teachers' Seminary, with a disappointing opening enrollment of 11 students, only four of whom had come to prepare for teaching. The large parlor of the building is used as a schoolroom and the reception room as a recitation room. Shortly thereafter, while keeping its original aim, the Seminary is changed to a classical school and enrollment increases.

2. THE BYLAWS OF THE COLLEGE

PREAMBLE

The purpose and character of Muhlenberg College as an institution of higher education “in an atmosphere of Christian culture” (Charter, Article II) are explicated as follows:

A. Muhlenberg is a private, church-related, non-profit, co-educational liberal arts college, dedicated to the proposition that “making real a thorough academic and cultural preparation for all avenues of life” (Charter, Article II) involves the provision of opportunities for students not only to develop their intellects and engage in activities to promote their physical well-being, but also to deepen their spiritual insights and expand their social sensitivities. The purpose is to further personal growth, where knowledge will be coupled with understanding, individual freedom will be exercised in the context of corporate responsibility, ambitions will be informed through a wider perspective of the human experience, and decision-making will be enhanced by ultimate values.

Basic to the fulfillment of this purpose are, among other factors:

1. The maintenance of high academic standards, with a faculty which is both scholarly and skilled in teaching and which, together with members of the administration, is concerned with the growth of persons.
 2. An emphasis upon the achievement of mutual respect and trust in a campus community wherein the common search for truth and meaning is open-minded, conducted both in the classroom and through a variety of stimulating individual group relationships, including the Christian witness within the universal church.
 3. A community of students, faculty and administrators which will include persons bringing to the College perspectives of traditions and insights from various races, cultures and socio-economic sectors of the human family.
 4. The provision of facilities and equipment adequate to the attainment of the intellectual, spiritual, social, and physical goals specified above.
- B. The “church-related” character of Muhlenberg signifies the mutual concern of the Church and College regarding the search for identity and meaning in life, which both partners regard as indispensable to the educational process. The Church cherishes the academic traditions and does not demand particular requirements in belief, worship, and lifestyle on the part of all members of the College community, nor does it instruct the Trustees whom it elects to do so. It expects that the College will deal with religion responsibly, as a central rather than a marginal concern, and that the Christian view of, and values in, life will be presented in ways appropriate to an academic community. Repudiating any covert pressures, the Church recognizes that truth-claims have no reality for a person until freely and inwardly appropriated. It regards its support of higher education not only as a means for enriching individual lives, but also as a service to society. Its special contribution is a faith-experience which the Church wishes to share, believing that thereby all members in the College community will be enriched and enabled better to serve the human family in making progress toward that genuine community marked by justice and peace necessary for the well-being of people and nations.
- C. It is in the context of the foregoing paragraphs that the use of such terms as “church-related,” “principles,” “character of the College,” and “the Muhlenberg tradition” are to be construed, and in harmony with which the life and work of the College is to be directed.
- D. These Bylaws state the basic rules of the College and together with the charter, resolutions and policies adopted by the Board take precedence over all other publications of the College, including, but not limited to, the College Catalog, Faculty Handbook, and Student Handbook.

ARTICLE I BOARD OF TRUSTEES

Section 1. GENERAL POWERS. The Board of Trustees shall represent and shall have full power to act for the College in the exercise of all its rights, duties, privileges and powers.

Section 2. TERMS OF OFFICE.

A. NUMBER AND TERM OF OFFICE. The number of voting Trustees of the College shall be no less than five (5) at all times, as provided in Article VIII of the Charter. The maximum number of voting Trustees is hereby fixed at forty-three (43), (each such voting Trustee is defined herein as a “Trustee” and “Trustee” as used in the Bylaws shall, unless otherwise specified, mean voting Trustee). The President of the College shall be a Trustee ex officio and shall have no vote. Of the Trustees: one (1) seat shall be held by each of the Bishops of the Northeastern Pennsylvania, Southeastern Pennsylvania and Slovak Zion Synods of the Evangelical Lutheran Church in America (ELCA); three (3) seats shall be held by individuals who are significantly involved as members of the ELCA, as determined by the Board with the consultation of the Bishops of the Northeastern Pennsylvania, Southeastern Pennsylvania and Slovak Zion Synods of the ELCA; and a minimum of sixty (60%) percent of the seats shall be held by alumni or alumnae of the College. All Trustees shall be nominated for membership to the Board by the Nominations and Honorary Degrees Committee (“Nominations Committee”) in accordance with the policies and procedures adopted by the Board and shall have such qualifications as determined by the Board and shall be elected by the Board at a Regular or Special Meeting of the Board to serve a term of three (3) years.

Each Trustee shall hold office until the earlier of: (i) the conclusion of his or her term, (ii) until his or her earlier death or resignation, or (iii) unless removed prior to the end of his or her term by a vote of two-thirds (2/3) of all voting Trustees then in office, as provided in Article I, Section 3. If a vacancy shall occur by death, removal or resignation, the Nominations Committee shall nominate and at a Regular or Special Meeting of the Board the Board shall elect the Trustee’s successor for the balance of the unexpired term.

B. TERM OF OFFICE FOR TRUSTEES. Trustee’s term of office: (i) for persons elected to fill a vacancy on the Board, will commence at the next regular meeting of the Board following such person’s election, and such term will end on the third anniversary of the first June 30 following their election; and (ii) for persons elected to fill an impending vacancy on the Board, will commence on the next July 1, and such term will end on the third anniversary thereof. A partial year of service will not be counted toward the twelve-year term limit, as described in Article I, Section 2.C.

C. LIMITATIONS ON TERMS OF OFFICE FOR TRUSTEES. Trustees may serve four (4) full successive terms, and until their successors are ratified or elected and qualified. However, other than as set forth herein, any Trustee who has served for four (4) successive full terms or has completed twelve (12) successive years as a Trustee shall not be eligible for re-election or reratification for a period of one (1) year following the close of his or her fourth full successive term, or the twelfth successive year in office, whichever shall first occur. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in these Bylaws, the Board, at its option, may by majority vote, extend the term or term(s) of an individual as a voting trustee in accordance with the provisions of this section of the Bylaws. The Board may, by majority vote, extend the voting trustee term of an individual who is either elected or re-elected as Chair of the Board or who is then currently sitting as Chair of the Board for one (1) additional three (3) year term in order to permit the Chair to either complete his or her current term as Chair or to serve for a new or additional two (2) year term as Chair, as the case may be, plus serve an additional one (1) year term as voting trustee holding the informal position of past Chair. In these instances, the four (4) term/twelve (12) year term limits provided for in this section shall not bar the election of such voting trustee to any such additional term or terms as determined by the Board. An individual shall not be eligible for re-election or re-ratification as a voting trustee for a period of one (1) year following the close of his or her one (1) year term as past Chair. This exception to the four (4) term/twelve (12) year term limits shall apply only to a voting trustee who has been elected Chair of the Board. The position of past Chair shall not afford any such individual any more or any less rights, obligations or responsibilities as any other voting trustee, other than as specifically set forth in this section of the Bylaws.

Section 3. RESIGNATION, REMOVAL AND VACANCIES.

- A. Resignation. Any Trustee may resign at any time by giving written notice of resignation to the Chairperson of the Board or the Secretary. Any such resignation should take effect at the time specified therein, or if not specified therein, at the next regular meeting of the Board.

Suspension By Failure to Attend Regular Meetings. A Trustee who fails to attend three (3) consecutive regular meetings of the Board shall be deemed to have been suspended from the Board, without the requirement of any further notice to the Chairperson or the Secretary of the Board. Such suspension shall take place immediately upon written notice from the Secretary to the Trustee advising the Trustee of these attendance requirements of the Bylaws. Immediately upon such suspension, the Trustee shall not be permitted to act, vote or otherwise act as a Trustee, pending the suspension review outlined in this section.

Should the Trustee fail to appeal the suspension as set forth in this section, the Trustee will be deemed to have automatically resigned as of the commencement of the next regular meeting of the Board.

Any Trustee may appeal such suspension to the Nominations Committee by notifying the Secretary of the Board, in writing, at least ten (10) days prior to the next regular meeting of the Board. The Trustee, or his/her representative, shall appear before and submit to the Nominations Committee any evidence or information that the Trustee believes warrants the reversal of the automatic suspension provisions of this section. The Nominations Committee shall consider the evidence and information presented by the Trustee and will make a recommendation to the Board as to whether the automatic suspension shall be reversed. The automatic suspension provision of the Board may be reversed by majority vote of the members present at the Nominations Committee meeting held for that purpose. The recommendation of the Nominations Committee to reverse the automatic suspension shall be brought to the full Board who must approve such recommendation by a two-thirds (2/3) vote of those voting Trustees in attendance at such meeting. Upon such approval by the Board, the Trustee's automatic suspension shall be rescinded and the Trustee shall resume his regular tenure and position in office.

In reviewing a Trustee's suspension pursuant to this section, the Nominations Committee and the Board as the case may be, shall review and take into consideration any and all personal, family and health issues related to the Trustee's attendance as well as the Trustee's past, present and future commitment to the College. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained herein, the Nominations Committee shall have the authority, on its own, to rescind the automatic suspension of a Trustee and to bring such matter to the Board for approval without requiring such Trustee to appear before or submit evidence to the Nominations Committee. The Nominations Committee may take such action based on health issues or any other compelling circumstances deemed appropriate by the Nominations Committee.

- C. Removal from Office. A Trustee may be removed at any time by a vote to two-thirds (2/3) of all voting Trustees then in office, provided that all Trustees have been given written notice of the intent to call such question to a vote (which notice shall contain the grounds for removal) no less than thirty (30) days prior to such vote.

Life Trustees shall receive notice of all Regular and Special Meetings of the Board and shall elect to receive copies of minutes, Board agendas and any and all other communications sent to Trustees in the same manner and in the same time as voting Trustees.

Section 3. ADVANCEMENT OF EXPENSES. The College shall pay expenses incurred by an officer, Trustee or committee member, and shall pay expenses incurred by any other employee or agent indemnified under this Article, in defending an action, or proceeding referred to in this Article IX in advance of the final disposition of such action or proceeding upon receipt of an undertaking by or on behalf of such person to repay such amount if it shall ultimately be determined that he or she is not entitled to be indemnified by the College. The College need not obtain the authorization of the voting Trustees with respect to any such payment of expenses.

Section 6. INDEMNIFICATION AGREEMENTS AUTHORIZED. - A. As soon as practicable after receipt by any person specified in Section 1 of this Article IX of notice of the commencement of any action, suit or proceeding specified in Section 1 of this Article IX, such person shall, if a claim with respect thereto may be made against the College under Article IX of these Bylaws, notify the College in writing of the commencement or threat thereof; however, the omission so to notify the College shall not relieve the College from any liability under Article IX of these Bylaws unless the College shall have been prejudiced thereby or from any other liability which it may have to such person other than under Article IX of these Bylaws.
- B. With respect to any such action as to which such person notifies the College of the commencement or threat thereof, the College may participate therein at its own expense and, except as otherwise provided herein, to the extent that it desires, the College, jointly with any other indemnifying party similarly notified, shall be entitled to assume the defense thereof, with counsel selected by the College to the reasonable satisfaction of such person. After notice from the College to such person of its election to assume the defense thereof, the College shall not be liable to such person under Article IX of these Bylaws for any legal or other expenses subsequently incurred by such person in connection with the defense thereof other than as otherwise provided herein. Such person shall have the right to employ his or her own counsel in such action, but the fees and expenses of such counsel incurred after notice from the College of its assumption of the defense thereof shall be at the expense of such person unless: (i) the employment of counsel by such person shall have been authorized by the College; or (ii) such person shall have reasonably concluded and the voting Trustees have agreed, in their reasonable judgment, that there may be a conflict of interest between the College and such person in the conduct of the defense of such proceeding. With respect to any matter in which the voting Trustees have agreed that such a conflict of interest exists, and separate counsel has been retained by the person(s) indemnified hereunder, the College shall bear the fees and expenses of such defense but shall not be required to assume the defense thereof. In the event the College approves separate counsel for a person(s) indemnified hereunder, the engagement of specific counsel shall be subject to the reasonable approval of the College.
- C. If indemnification or advancement of expenses under Article IX of these Bylaws are not paid or made by the College, or on its behalf, within ninety (90) days after a written claim for indemnification or a request for an advancement of expenses has been received by the College, such person may, at any time thereafter, bring suit against the College to recover the unpaid amount of the claim or the advancement of expenses. The right to indemnification and advancements of expenses provided hereunder shall be enforceable by such person in any court of competent jurisdiction. The burden of proving that indemnification is not appropriate shall be on the College. Expenses reasonably incurred by such person in connection with successfully establishing the right to indemnification or advancement of expenses, in whole or in part, shall also be indemnified by the College.
- D. When the voting Trustees are required to make a determination of any issues relating to matters in this Article, such determination shall be with the advice of counsel and by a majority vote of the voting Trustees.

Section 8. INSURANCE. The College shall have the power to purchase and maintain insurance on behalf of any person who is or was a Trustee, officer, committee member, employee or agent of the College, or is or was serving at the request of the College as a Trustee, officer, committee member, employee or agent of another domestic or foreign corporation for profit or not-for-profit, partnership, joint venture, trust or other enterprise against any liability asserted against him or her and incurred by him or her in any such capacity, or arising out of his or her status as such, whether or not the College would have the power to indemnify such person against such liability under the provisions of this Article IX.

Section 9. NO RETROACTIVE EFFECT OF AMENDMENTS.
